SULZER CASE CLOSED, GOVERNOR NOT CALLED TO THE WITNESS STAND

Prosecution Also Rests and Arrangements Are Made for Closing Arguments to Begin To-Morrow—First Vote on Friday.

By Samuel M. Williams.
(Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)
ALBANY, Oct. 8.—Gov. Sulzer's defense before the High Court of Impeachment was closed at ten minutes before 4 o'clock this afternoon, at the conclusion of the testimony of Louis Sarecky and Hugh J. Reilly. The accused Governor was not put on the witness stand.

This action followed a ruling of the Court shutting out the testimony of John A. Hennessy, who was to tell the sensational story of Tammany frauds in the state service and what Gov. Sulzer had done to check them. Presiding Judge Cullen ruled that this had nothing to do with the case at issue. Chief Judge Cullen said that, while he was willing to be liberal, yet this went entirely too far a-field and a line had to be drawn.

The prosecution rested at 4:05 o'clock and an executive session was ordered to make arrangements for the closing arguments.

ARGUMENT BEGINS TO-MORROW—FIRST VOTE COMES FRIDAY.

It was agreed that each side should have five hours—equivalent to two days. Each side will put up two of their counsel, alternating their addresses. Court adjourned until tomorrow at 10 o'clock. This will bring a vote probably a Friday afternoon.

The first vote then will be on the question of whether acts committed before the Governor took office can be considered by the Court. The defense practically rests its entire case on this point. If they can get a favorable decision then all campaign contributions will be ruled out. After the court votes to settle this and other questions that were postponed determination at the close of the hearing will begin on the verdict of guilt or innocence. It is probable that the final voting will not take place until Saturday.

Louis A. Sarecky, former secretary to the Governor, left the witness stand after six hours of cross-examination, without entering in his assumption of responsibility for handling the Governor's campaign fund and making the false statement of expenses. He withdrew all attacks made by John B. Stanchfield in cross-examination. He frankly admitted that he prepared the false statement which Sarecky signed, only $2,499. He also spent $300 out of the fund, settling a suit brought against Mr. Sulzer by Hastings Brothers of Seattle.

COULD NOT EXPLAIN OMISSION OF THE SUFFICIENCY CHECK.
Stanchfield tried to pin Sarecky down to an explanation of why he had not mentioned in this report certain checks which he had deposited in a bank.

These were checks from Peter Dolger, Morris Tekusky, S. Ullman, Bird J. Coler, Thomas E. Rush and Jacob H. Schiff. Concerning the first six he made the excuse that he must have lost some of the daily memoranda slips on which he kept account of the checks received. But for the Schiff check, which he admitted was too large and important to be forgotten, he could give no explanation.

"I can't think of a single reason why I omitted it," he declared.

It was brought out that Sarecky had destroyed all checks, vouchers and records of campaign contributions which he had handled as treasurer of the Sulzer Campaign Committee.

Hugh J. Reilly, a Cuban contractor, testified that at various times in the autumn of 1912 he loaned William Sulzer $25,000, none of which has been repaid.

FIVE IN FAMILY LOSE LIVES BY GAS; TWO SAVED

Rabbi, His Wife and Children Slept as the Deadly Fumes Poured From Jet.

DOOR IS BROKEN OPEN.

Bodies of Schaefer, Two Boys and Two Girls Found by Policeman and Janitor.

Five members of the family of Rabbi Solomon Schaefer were found dead of gas asphyxiation in their home on the ground floor of the six-story tenement at No. 36 East Ninety-ninth street today. The dead were Schaefer and four of his children. His wife and another child were unconscious and are in Reception Hospital with the chances against their recovery.

An open gas jet in the kitchen of the three-room flat admitted the deadly fumes after they had passed through a quarter-in-the-slot gas meter. The gas entered during the night while the family slept in rooms that were practically hermetically sealed, and the tragedy was not discovered until this afternoon, when Samuel Gold, living in the house, smelled gas in the hallway, and his investigation led to Policeman Kelly of the East One Hundred and Fourth street station breaking in to the Schaefer flat.

Schaefer was fifty years old and very poor. His wife, Molly, was thirty-five. Their brood of five children was a great strain on their slender resources and a three-room flat was all they could afford. They moved their meagre belongings into the flat in Ninety-ninth street late yesterday afternoon.

When darkness fell Schaefer put a twenty-five-cent piece into the gas meter to turn on the gas. He did not notice that one of the three jets in the kitchen was open. Neither did any other member of the family.

The Rabbi, his wife and the children retired early. Schaefer slept on a mattress on the floor of the bedroom. The wife, with Tommy, aged seven; Goldie, aged six; and Becky, aged nine, slept in the bed. Two boys—Samuel, aged eleven, and Herman, aged three—slept on a couch in the dining-room.

All but Mrs. Schaefer and the girl Becky were dead when the policeman broke into the place this afternoon. The windows were tightly closed.

The ambulance surgeon telephoned to the Consolidated Gas Company for a pump-out, but the appliance was of no effect and the two living were hurried to the hospital.

"LOW CHURCHMEN" WIN EPISCOPAL ELECTION

Dr. Mann of Boston Chosen President of House of Deputies.

The vote for President of the House of Deputies of the General Convention of the Episcopal Church this afternoon resulted as follows: Dr. W. T. Manning of Trinity Church, New York, 24; Dr. Alexander, of Trinity Church, Boston, 28. Two hundred and fifty-one votes were required to elect.

Dr. Manning offered a resolution to make Dr. Mann's election unanimous, which was passed.

PITCHERS IN TO-DAY'S GAME

PLANK. MATHEWSON.

FEATURES OF THE GAME AT A GLANCE

In the tenth inning Matty's single scored Grant, who ran for McLean, winning his own game.

Fletcher following, singled with the bases full and brought in Matty and Herzog.

Wiltse saved the day for the Giants in the ninth when with a man on second and third, he nailed Strunk at the plate on Lapp's bouncer. Wiltse also got Plank's bouncer and helped run down Barry between third and home when scoring seemed sure.

Burns was the second strikeout victim of Plank in the second. Murray, too, went the same way in the same inning.

Matty fooled Catcher Lapp of the Phillies in three pitched balls in the second half of the second.

Burns tried to "wait out" Plank in the fourth, but again fanned.

Baker got an error for a bad throw of Shaffer's grounder in the fourth. It meant nothing to the Giants, for right after Shaffer was caught trying to steal second.

Strunk got Matty's first "walk" to first in the fourth inning, after Baker's grounder hit Doyle's wrist and got away for a single.

McLean got the Giants' third hit in the fifth, but Wiltse struck out. Then Plank "walked" his rival Mathewson.

Burns made the most spectacular play of the game in the fifth, when he made a running catch of Murphy's wicked liner.

Plank seemed to still have the "Indian sign" on the Giants in the sixth, making three go out in order.

Matty struck out Collins in the sixth and badly fooled McLean also on three pitched balls. In this inning Fletcher made a remarkable diving stop of Baker's hard hit, and got the "Home Run" King at first.

SHIBE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The Giants won the second game from the Athletics. The score was 3 to 0. It was the most wonderful pitchers' battle ever seen in a World's Series.

The veteran Eddie Plank weakened in the tenth inning. He was pounded for three runs which gave Mathewson a victory. Aside from his wonderful pitching, Matty, now in his fourteenth season, not only pitched marvelously but won the game himself with a single to left that sent Eddie Grant in with the first run.

The man who prevented the Athletics from winning the heavy hitters were completely at his mercy. On one occasion he struck out Collins and Home-Run Baker when even a long fly would have spelled disaster. The Giants left for New York immediately after the game.

When the Giants went out for fielding practice Fred Merkle went out to his regular position, despite his injury; his exhibition of gameness was remarkable. It was still uncertain, however, that
